Mosa Rahimi

Wharton MBA | Harvard MPA | Amazon Leo | spent 20 years operating at the boundary of complex systems, policy, and human-scale coordination. Deliberately acquiring the technical language to operate at the frontier of AI.

United States

Summary

I am a proud US Citizen by Choice.

I am eager to re-invent myself for a career in AI and DL related to Finance/Strategy/Operation and Data Science.

My story in itself is a humble journey of survival and triumph over some of the toughest challenges refugees and ethnic minorities encounter every day.

I have always been interested to know how things are being done rather than what is being done. My next learning project is emerging in finance and economic modeling and the use of AI.

I had the privilege of working with various senior-level decision-makers in Afghanistan, liaising with foreign officials from the EU countries, the UK, various Asian Countries such as India and China, and numerous UN offices such as UNDP and UNDOC, among others, to empower vulnerable groups at the local level.

In an increasingly interdependent but more contested world, our efforts formulated and implemented equity-centered strategic recommendations. Expertise spanning gender equity, cross-cultural engagement, health, humanitarian aid, poverty alleviation, education, and human rights has proven to be unique and powerful perspectives when building capacity in fragile and conflict-affected situations.

After coming stateside, I started from minimum paid jobs while staying focused on my educational goals. Along the way, I expanded my thought leadership to various social causes, building a network to empower college and graduate-level folks in Afghanistan, Iran,

Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, India, Turkey, Egypt, India, Syria, Peru, and many more countries.

April 2024 - May 2025

Led Inbound Stow Operation with no dedicated Process Assistance (PA), achieving daily goals with the least input hours

Broke Inbound Stow record during non-peak season, increasing from 350 K to 364 K units, a 40 %+ over the daily goal

Overhauled Outbound Operation after one week being assigned to lead OB

Broke OB Palletize recording during peak season 2024, making OB operation the most consistent palletize operation across Amazon's Network of Sub-Same-Day Distribution Centers – SSD DC

Created a simple yet powerful Excel tool to hourly track the direct and indirect Case per Hour average

Trained and uplifted 4 PAs with the same logic, metrics, and strategies I used to run OB Palletize Operation, took the fear of Math and interpreting numbers and metrics away from them.

Dastranj

Founder

July 2019 - May 2025 (5 years 11 months)

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, United States

Dastranj was my next learning opportunity to continue my learning in the world of business and technology. I am determined to use the power of AI, Machine Learning, Neural Networks, Evolutionary Computation, and Computer Vision in my future endeavors.

As a refugee child in Iran in the early 1990s, hearing about all the technological advances over the radio, I have the opportunity to pursue my learning dreams and be a tech geek.

Team Afghan Power

Development & Outreach MBA Intern

May 2020 - August 2021 (1 year 4 months)

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, United States

Collaborated with the Director of TAP, the director of Outreach, and 3 interns to develop a 5-year strategic plan for the second phase of the micro-grid solar energy and internet access expansion initiative;

I mostly advocated for the shared relevant Afghan cultural insights with the TAP team and requested to consider locations that are remote enough and yet still very secure. More importantly, these locations will not be covered by public grids in a near 5 to 10 years.

Advocated the reliability and efficiency of micro-grid solar energy projects by presenting value proposition to Head of Education Department in Daikundi and 2 local NGOs (Shuhada & Karim Agha Khan)

Refugee Investment Network

Summer Intern

May 2019 - July 2019 (3 months)

Washington D.C. Metro Area

Refugee Investment Network provides investors the opportunity to invest in entrepreneurs who, at some point in their lives, were refugees or are refugees but didn't have or can't have access to capital and mentorship to pursue their ideas. RIN is a very promising idea with a noble cause that serves humanity the best. It especially serves those that have suffered the most but have the most to offer; those that can positively change their own lives and the lives of others in, including but limited to, their host communities.

CyraCom

Video and Over the Phone Interpreter

April 2016 - June 2018 (2 years 3 months)

Queens, NYC

The sole Farsi-Dari languages in-house interpreter for a growing interpretation service company with a staff of 300 at the NYC center.

Interpreted in fields such as law, finance, health care, and medicine as well as including 9-1-1 calls

Several, Trustco Bank, a BCS Warehouse in Long Island City, Wholefood

Bank Teller, Audio Transcriber & Freelance Translator, Warehouse Worker, Cashier

January 2015 - April 2016 (1 year 4 months)

Greater New York City Area

Transcribed audios about the journeys that Persian speaking refugees coming from Iran and Afghanistan undertook to get to Europe.

Advised refugees and friends that were referred to me regarding the challenges and opportunities of immigrating to Europe and America.

NOTE: This was the transition period that all immigrants with no personal and professional support network have to deal with and, in order to make their American dream come true, overcome. So did I.

Facing the dilemma of either sharing or hiding related facts about my one and a half year transition period, I would rather share.
